Man's chief inhumanity to man is the self imposed requirement of a coat and other unnecessary items of apparel in the good old, hot summer-time. If he had as much sense as the weaker—but indisputably cagier—sex he would wear as few clothes as she does when the mercury is battling in the nineties. It is one of those customs peculiar to the male that he sweaters in full attire and the female is comfortable in half as much.

There is some evidence that man is approaching the point where soon he may achieve a sartorial proclamation emancipation. He may shake off the fetters—in this case a tie and a hat and coat and vest—which bind him and come out for larger expanses of white space. He may, although he would never admit the source of inspiration, take a cue from the female of species and become comfortable.

Meanwhile it is the city slicker who does the most suffering. Not only is it hotter in the cities, but the conventions are more rigid. In the small town men have been taking off their coats for time out of mind, and in some rural areas never had them on. Now as the rural population drifts to urban centers, perhaps the lads from the farms will import their ideas about the necessity of summer freedom. As our collar wilts. We hope so.

Here's the real job for lawyers. The American Bar Association, meeting recently in Los Angeles, imitated great many national organizations by resolving or near resolving on many issues. Speakers assured the listening world that the lawyers were ready to defend the Constitution and the Courts from criticism.

If the lawyers of the United States know anything they realize that the public has lost much of its former respect and regard for the members of the Bar. This is due to the general conviction that through practice of the average lawyer justice is largely a matter of dollars and that few lawyers have any principles that can not be suffocated by a big fee.

The notorious alliance that exists between crooks and crooked lawyers has been a stench in the public nostrils for decades. It does not exist solely in the metropolitan areas but to a lesser extent, depending upon smaller opportunity, it is prevalent throughout the United States. It was recognized at the Bar meeting by Judge John J. Parker, of the U. S. District Court, who declared that one of the most important duties of the American Bar Association is to "rid the country of the lawyer-criminal."

It would pay the lawyers of the United States large dividends to take up the challenge of Judge Parker. Moreover, they should know the truth of the statement that was made by Mayer C. Goldman of New York, who declared that "an alliance between lawyer-criminals and gangster clients is a menace to government itself" and the further assertion that "no overlord of organized crime—no racketeer plies his trade today unless his lawyer is nearby to checkmate the law."

Our Town has a real regard for the highest type of lawyer who has been almost overwhelmed by the slyster practices of his confederates. He is unable to meet them on terms of competition to secure business and this (See OUR TOWN on page 6)

NEW SCHOOL ST. MONICA

Catholics Erecting New Plant Here

Construction work is well under way on the foundation for a new school for the Catholics of St. Monica's Parish. The plans call for completion of the building in time for use this fall when the school opens.

For the present only one story may be completed it was explained by Rev. Geo. Apel, pastor. August Vuillemin of Waco is in charge of construction work.

The building of this new school is the realization of dreams of Father Apel who said that about eleven years ago he thought the plans for the new school would materialize, but fire destroyed the Catholic Church, and the available funds had to be used for the present $50,000 Saint Monica's Church.

Builder

FATHER APEL

The new school is 50x88 feet and is being built of brick with concrete floors with wood over. Frank McLerran is contractor for all the cement work. The cost of the building was not given out by Rev. Apel at this time, as it is uncertain that a second story will be built, although the foundation is being laid for a two story structure. At present plans are for 4 rooms, to take care of the 109 enrollment.

During the past year the St. Anthony school, with only three rooms was not large enough for all the classes and one had to be conducted in the Sister's home.

To clear the site for the new school it was necessary to tear down the first Catholic church which had stood since 1890 as a memorial to the pioneer Catholics of this City. During the past 50 years the Catholics have made steady progress in Cameron.

GULF AGENT DECLARES MOTORISTS ARE HELPED

It has been a regular service of the Herald to restore lost dogs, watches, wallets and whatnots to anxious owners. But today our attention is called to the fact that we have helped to find something which the owners did not know they had lost.

"Thanks to the Herald," says E. H. Coffield, local representative of the Gulf Refining Company, "a multitude of motorists have found that they have been losing gallons of gasoline without realizing it—just as surely as if there were a leak in the gasoline tank!"

Mr. Coffield refers to the result of a series of advertisements recently placed in the Herald by his Company, offering all motorists the free booklet, "15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money."

"Soon after the offer appeared in your paper, motorists began to flock to our filling station to claim their copies of the booklet, and the original supply had to be renewed. An enthusiastic demand for them continues," Mr. Coffield states.

Among the 15 simple, money-saving hints illustrated in the attractive little Gulf booklet is a pertinent pointer on parking. It explains to the surprise of most motorists, that a car figuratively "burns up gas" even when it is parked, depending upon where and how you park it. Other hints in the booklet that materially increase mileage-per-gallon deal with proper use of the self starter, accelerator; gear shifting and other ordinary operations in driving, any one of these wastes quantities of gasoline, if carelessly done.

Titled "15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money," the booklet is free for the asking at all Gulf service stations and dealers.

55 Pound Melon Is Opener For Quest of the Largest

A. R. O'Neal has opened the program to discover the largest melon grown in Milam County this year. He brought to Cameron last week end a 55 pound melon from his Hoyte farm. Mr. O'Neal said he would do this as a starter but reserves the right to submit his best melons later on.

The Herald is giving a three year subscription to the producer who brings in the largest melon this year. E. D. Parnell, director for the fair this fall, wants to purchase the melon and preserve it for exhibition. Melon raisers should remember this.

Scout Leader Will Address Lions Here

Mr. Powell, scout executive for the North Texas district, will deliver an address at the Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club on August 6th, it was announced today by Rev. J. P. Love, Episcopal minister and scout leader.

MANY HEAR MELBERT IN REVIVAL HERE

Rev. N. H. Melbert, Presiding Elder of the Marlin District, who is doing the preaching at the Methodist Revival, is bringing great messages at both the morning and evening services.

His preaching is plain and practical and no one goes away in doubt about the meaning of his messages.

Mr. Cecil Taylor is leading the congregation in inspirational singing.

The arrangement of the lawn for the evening services is delightful. It is well lighted and comfortable. Great crowds are attending both morning and evening services.

The Pastor.

Rural Mail Routes 712 Miles Serving More Than 18,000

Archie McLerran, secretary of the Milam County Rural Letter Carriers, has furnished the Herald with an interesting array of statistics on the rural mail service.

Few people realize the extent of this service and often times difficult conditions under which these government employees get the mails to rural homes of this county.

Thanks to Mr. McLerran for this information. Did you know that there are 17 routes in Milam County? These 17 carriers cover 712 miles of Milam county roads each day, 311 miles of which are improved in some form, leaving 401 miles of unimproved roads to be traveled.

These carriers serve some 4560 families or more than 18,000 patrons each day except Sunday. This is a service which the rural people justly deserve and greatly appreciate, says Mr. McLerran.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD REVIVAL SEPTEMBER 7

She became the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradbury on Saturday July 27, 1935. All Cameron acknowledges with appreciation the sweet benediction of her presence and congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Bradbury.

MISS PHILLIPS TO WED

Miss Elenor Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Phillips of Rockdale, will be married at 9:30 Monday morning in Rockdale to Mr. Warren of El Paso. Rev. J. P. Love, pastor of All Saints Episcopal church here, will read the marriage ritual.

PROGRESS IS MADE

Prospects that Cameron may soon have a bathing park with bath house and modern swimming pool, were bright this week as citizens warmed up to the suggestion and began to pledge their support to the city government which is being encouraged to undertake this project.

Next week the Herald will print in brief comments by citizens who feel this park is important to Cameron. Civic organizations were expected to give expression to their support. Indications are the city council will do all possible for a practical and sane solution of the great need in Cameron.

The Herald thanks the many who have shown so much concern for the welfare of our city. The park, if established, would be city owned and controlled.

Austin Wokaty, agent for the Great Southern Life Insurance Company, has returned to his home from Marlin when he submitted to an operation for removal of his tonsils. Mr. Wokaty went to Marlin to the Buis Hospital where Dr. Alexander performed the operation Sunday morning.

Monday Mr. Wokaty returned to Cameron and was down town for a few minutes. He has been suffering for some time and has undergone a decline in health, but will be entirely improved within a short time. The operation was very successful and his many friends will be glad to know he has returned to his home.

Mr. Wokaty, some years ago, took the agency for the Great Southern Life Insurance Company, and has been a steady producer, in fact has won high recognition and not a few prizes and citations. Antone Bedan, 69, was almost instantly killed at 11 p. m. Saturday night when struck by an automobile driven by John Holley near the Walzel grocery in Santa Fe Town. Holley was placed under arrest but later released when officers found the accident unavoidable.

Witnesses said that Bedan who operates a shoe shop near the grocery, walked out into the path of the car as it sped down the street. Holley, by reason of a recent severe cut on his right wrist was not able to use his right hand. The impact crushed the aged man's skull and both legs were broken. An ambulance carried him to the hospital.

Justice of Peace Womack Brashear held an inquest Saturday night.

The accident was one of three in Cameron Saturday. The other occurred at the highway intersection of city park, and a small child was knocked to the pavement by an out of town car at 3 p. m. near the First National Bank.

Funeral services for Mr. Bedan were held Monday afternoon at St. Monica's Catholic church with Rev. Geo. Apel reading the Mass. Interment was made in Catholic cemetery.

E. A. BARMORE DIES AT HOME NEAR CITY

Eugene A. Barmore, 68, beloved pioneer citizen of Milam county, died suddenly at his home in the Salem community shortly after 10 o'clock Monday night, July 29, 1935.

Death came to the pioneer in the quiet and peace of his home. He had been visited in the afternoon by his physician, Dr. M. C. Sapp, and was believed to be improved. Friends had called during the day. He had been in declining health for several months and recently suffered a heart and kidney attack. Death came quickly following an attack shortly before 10 o'clock.

Mr. Barmore was a native of Attala county, Mississippi, the oldest son of the late W. B. and Mary Gaston Barmore, the mother being a native of Georgia. More than 50 years ago they came to Milam county. When the father died Eugene became the family's support. These and other fine characteristics formed the basis of a warm tribute paid him in Presbyterian church late Tuesday when the funeral was held.

In the next issue of the Cameron Herald a full and complete obituary will be printed.

He was born in 1867. The family settled at Maysfield many years ago. (See BARMORE on page 12)

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

THE STORY OF DANIEL

International Sunday School Lesson for August 11, 1935

GOLDEN TEXT: "Know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which ye have from God?" 1 Corinthians 6:19.

(Lesson Text: Daniel 1:8-20)

Our lesson today is taken from the Book of Daniel. We suggest that our readers run over the entire book. At least read the first half of the book which tells several interesting stories about Daniel and his fellow exiles in Babylon.

Daniel stands out in the scriptures as one of the few comparatively perfect men, for we have no record of any great fault in this splendid figure. His story and character reminds one of that of Joseph, both having been young men of firm principle and constant loyalty to convictions, regardless of personal danger or fortune. Both Joseph and Daniel attained to great distinction and authority under foreign kings, who recognized their fidelity to duty, that they would be trustworthy in any enterprise.

"Dare to be a Daniel" has become proverbial, and Shakespeare in his "Merchant of Venice," uses the phrase "a Daniel come to judgment," indicating the surprise which would follow an error or fault—so traditional had become Daniel's reputation for righteousness.

The book of Daniel, like several others, has been the subject of much difference of opinion. The conservative viewpoint is that it was written by Daniel himself which supported by references in Ezekiel. First Maccabees and Josephus. St. Paul in his writings refers to Daniel and in one well known passage Christ refers to a passage spoken by Daniel. Therefore, until comparatively recently, the book has been generally accepted as of Daniel's authorship.

The opposite, or radical attitude to the book is that it was written during the reign of Antiochus Epiphanes, about 165 B. C. This Greek king ruled in Syria after the downfall of the Alexandrian Empire and oppressed the Jews rigorously, as related in the Apocryphal book of Maccabees. The king captured Jerusalem by attacking it on the Sabbath when the men would not fight him, and in every way possible sought to destroy their religious faith and worship. To reinforce the determination of the Jews against this oppressor, it is said, the Book of Daniel was written—as God saved Daniel so would He save the Jews from their persecutions.

We are not given very many details about Daniel and his life. He came from a noble family of Judah and was carried away from Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar about 605 B. C., along with other captives. The book tells us nothing about his lineage or other personal history, nor does it give us many facts regarding the captivity. Its purpose is to show how God supervises mankind and directs the course of history and illustrates this by giving instances of God's miraculous interventions and everlasting power.

The complete confidence in God which runs throughout the book is one of the significant themes. Here it is revealed how kingdoms rise and fall in accordance with God's purpose, working out his divine will in regard to human affairs.

Our lesson opens by telling how the king of Babylon selected certain favored Jewish youths for instruction so that they might serve him. During the process of this training, which lasted for three years, occurred the well-known incident when Daniel and his friends avoided eating the king's meat which was forbidden by their religious ideals because it had been offered to idols. Subsequently, at the conclusion of their training, when the king examined these candidates for imperial service, he found Daniel and his friends superior to all in sagacity and intellect—a fact often used to recommend temperance and obedience to conscience.

Daniel soon established himself at the court of the Babylonian monarch as an interpreter of dreams, like Joseph, his famous predecessor. Nebuchadnezzar called upon his wise men to reveal and interpret to him a dream which he had forgotten. In those days, dreams were considered divine revelations, hence the importance of discovering the message sent to the king. When the magicians and astrologers confessed their inability to do anything but interpret dreams as stated to them, in his wrath, decreed their deaths. After an appeal to God the vision and its interpretation was revealed to Daniel, who, thereupon conveyed to the king the interpretation of the great image, which was made partly of gold, and of silver, brass, iron and clay. Daniel acknowledged that his wisdom came from God and interpreted the dream to declare the power and eternity of the true God.

STUCK IN QUICKSAND

El Dorado, Ark.—Harvey Richey, stuck in the quicksand at the bottom of a well for more than eight hours, was rescued by firemen who literally washed him out of the sand trap.

FUNERAL HELD FOR MRS. F. V. SCHILLER

Funeral services for Mrs. F. V. Schiller, 78, were conducted on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence near Buckholts. Interment was made in the Ocker cemetery near Temple.

Mrs. Schiller was born in Czechoslovakia and came to America when 14 years of age. She settled with her parents in Washington County, where they lived a number of years and where she was married to Mr. Schiller. She was a member of the Lutheran church.

Death claimed Mrs. Schiller on Thursday morning at 2:15 o'clock, after a lingering illness. She was well known in and around the Buckholts community, where she had resided for a number of years.

Surviving are her husband, six daughters and two sons as follows: Mrs. J. B. Logan, Galveston; Mrs. V. A. Kubecka, Buckholts; Mrs. Joe Osoba and Mrs. J. H. Kohut, Austin; Mrs. J. F. Svacek, West; Mrs. Ernest Kohler, Cameron and Will and Lewis Schiller of Buckholts. A sister, Mrs. F. J. Wotipha of Caldwell also survives.

The United States had a tight squeeze in getting Germany in the Davis Cup inter-zone finals to reach the challenge round with Great Britain. The doubles, which had been, before the matches, declared as the decisive match, finally went to Allison and Van Ryn over Von Cramm and Lund in five sets after the Germans had matched point five times. The comeback is a credit to the stamina of Allison. He was apparently tired the next day as he clinched the matches with a straight set win over Henkel.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denson and daughter, Marjorie of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Watt Skinner of Rogers have returned from Corpus Christi.

U. S. SHELLS "NO GOOD"

London.—Ammunition manufactured in the United States during the world war was more dangerous to the British than the enemy, according to a recent statement of Lord Marley in the House of Lords. Marley, who won the distinguished service cross, insisted that his unit was careful to be as far away as possible from the artillery because the American shells had the habit of bursting at the muzzle.

SURGEONS AND COMETS TIE IN EIGHT INNINGS

By CLIFF THOMPSON

The Temple Soil Surgeons and the XXX Pearl Comets battled to a draw in 8 innings of baseball at the Lawless Green field Sunday.

The K. of C. and Lott game was rained out in the early part of the afternoon, but the Surgeons and Comets played on a slightly muddy field after the shower.

In the first inning, the Surgeons opened fire on Etzell the Comets' 129 pound pitching ace. They took four hits and made four runs, thus putting the Comets in the hole. Etzell soon found himself and began to work the Surgeons over. He was evidently the star performer of the afternoon, having struck out 15 of the Surgeons in the eight innings.

In the fourth inning, Moon got on second base when Wiley overthrew first base and was brought in by a couple of singles by Darrough and Jones. With the Surgeons five runs ahead and the Comets bent on doing something about it, Jenness rattled the boards in left field for two bases. Worcester singled, Walker walked loading the bases. Wiley hits into a play forcing Worcester out, but scoring Jenness. Walker was put out on a desperate effort to score at home plate. Smith flies out for the third out of that inning.

Jenness grabs off a single to start another spree of hitting in the 6th inning. Worcester then doubles, Walker repeated with a double scoring Jenness. Moon then walked. Wiley. Smith then came up to get a valuable single scoring Worcester and Walker. For a moment's repose, Moon swapped positions with second baseman Darrough, who faced Schottle and Etzell at bat. Schottle, Etzell and Williams made outs, leaving the score 5 to 4 for Temple after that inning.

Worcester singled in the seventh inning, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on an error by the short stop to tie the score, where it ended in the eighth inning, when the game was called on account of darkness.

The Comets and Temple Surgeons are scheduled to play a double header in Temple next Sunday. The Comets yet have a good chance to win the Cen-Tex race with such pitching as Minton Etzell put out in the Sunday game and just average support from the team, the Comets might go places.

Marble Machine Tax Is Reported

A report was received on Wednesday from marble machine tax in this county and it showed that $352.65 had been realized since the 30th of May, when the tax went into effect.

The Very Latest

Slowly but surely, the advances of strange carriages on in the big city land in this far outpost of civilization. The latest sinful invention from that very center of sin, New York, is the lipstick tissue, which, if you're a lady, someone may hand you on your visit to the city. It is science's little contribution to civilization for today.

The idea of the thing is that women who use lipstick should wipe their mouths off before they sit down to eat, so they won't get lipstick on napkins, tablecloths, etc. Inventor of lipstick tissues is the Hotel Montclair in New York City, whose table linens, napkins, and towels used to get stained up with lipstick. Linen so damaged had to be removed from service and a lot of linen was disappearing in this way the management noticed (their own word, "noticed") the other day, so they invented lipstick tissues. Now the management instead of worrying about its stained table linen, tears gleefully around giving out packets of lipstick tissue to the female guests.

The whole trouble seems to be the fact that modern lipstick, supposed to be of the kind that won't come off, does the indelible act in the wrong places. On each packet of tissues is a dedicatory passage addressed to "Madame," saying, "Lipstick surely adds to beauty's perfection. Yet on our handkerchief, serviette, towel or linen, it loses much of its charm. . . . A votre service."

Every once in a while civilization, in its relentless march forward, trips over its own toes.

The Doctor's Orders

From the advice of physicians as recorded in our news columns, it appears that keeping cool in hot weather is a matter of diet, clothing, common sense and soap and water. Avoid heavy meals, steer a wide course away from too much meat. Wear light clothing and as little of it as possible. Stay out of the midday sun, eschew the active life when the mercury's in the nineties. Finally use as much soap and water externally as the law allows.

They are sound prescriptions, easy to follow. They require no outlay of energy for their observance. A person may sit in the quiet of his home and obey all of them. He may, indeed, cite the formula as argument against the importunings of fellows who speak of tennis or golf or working in garden. With it he may defend himself against the torture of complete attire.

Through all the dog days now upon us, he may sit motionless and at ease, a cooling drink nearby, a minimum of clothes upon his body, interrupting his calm occasionally for the refreshment of a shower. It will be following doctor's orders.

Washington News For Milam County Farmers

From Cameron Herald's Washington Bureau

AAA AND THE COURTS.

A FAR-REACHING BILL.

IT LOOKS DANGEROUS.

The fact that a Federal circuit court of appeals has declared the processing taxes unconstitutional and that Congress has apparently attempted to remedy the situation in a series of amendments still leaves the farmers of the nation somewhat up in the air.

Of course, everyone realizes that present contracts and those made will be carried out and many believe that if the AAA falls to the wayside with the end of the processing taxes some other form of farm relief will become available. However, a bird in the hand is, even today, worth two or more in the bush and millions of farmers know that they have received payments from the government under the AAA.

Both of the political parties are anxious to restore to the farmer the so-called parity, even if there is difference of opinion as to the methods to be used. It is up to the farmers to stay organized, get behind a program and insist upon it.

The proposed Frazier-Lempke bill is attracting much attention and while agriculturists may demand it and statesmen vote for it there is danger that the people of the nation will not stand for it.

The strength of the movement today to give the farmer a break is the general recognition of the justice of his claim. The public at large is satisfied that the agriculturist hasn't had his share of the wealth of the country and that his benefit payments, etc., represent to some extent an equivalent to the tariff for industry. That public support is worth having and is more effective than any organized farm bloc could be if left to fight its own battle unaided.

The terms of the Frazier-Lempke bill are far reaching. The writer is neither for nor against it but he believes that farmers should study it carefully before going to the mat for it. According to newspaper summaries the measure would compel a $3,000,000,000 currency issue to liquidate and refinance agricultural debts, give farmers a large control over the Federal Reserve Board, set up a "board of agriculture" which would name an executive committee to displace the president as head of various farm credit agencies and give it the power to compel the removal of members of the Farm Credit Administration or Federal Reserve Board.

Strong sentiment is said to be back of the measure but we would caution farmers that the people of this country, as a whole, are not going to permit any one class to run the country. For too many years big business has occupied the driver's seat, to the injury of the farmer, but that is being adjusted a bit now. We urge farmers as a class, to prevent, as far as possible, the rise of any sentiment against farmers in general and to take into consideration that there are many agencies, even now, trying to make out a case against any government aid to agriculture.

The sympathy of the writer is entirely with the agriculturists of the nation but we doubt seriously whether the forty eight farmers mentioned in the bill as the "board of agriculture," would be able to select any three men to serve on an executive committee that would be able to satisfy the demands of the farmers from various sections, much less take proper cognizance of the demands of labor, capital, industry, commerce and other economic interests of the nation.

It may be that the summaries of the bill that we have seen are wrong in some details and that, when introduced, the measure may be more acceptable. At the same time no political observer, with any degree of judgment, is going to advocate any plan that will practically turn the Treasury and the banks into a football for the farmers and, if he is a real friend of agriculture fail to point out the dangerous repercussions that are likely to result.

OUR TOWN

conscience does not permit him to adopt these tactics. This applies not only to ambulance chasing and police court racketeers but the henchmen of corporations who sell not only their legal knowledge but their social and political influence as well.

Let the American Bar Association put some fire into the fight against the vultures who prey upon the American people under the guise of practicing law. They take advantage of the privileges accorded them by society, forget that they are supposed to be officers of the courts and stoop to almost any kind of chicanery to misuse the legal process for the benefit of criminals and economic profiteers.

The Associated Gas and Electric Company admits that it spent $700,000 to fight the holding company bill, that its records were destroyed through fear of an investigation and Senator Black says there is no way to tell whether the company spent $700,000 or $5,000,000.

There is one point, however, that is not clear to us. From the record of some utility companies in the past we are prepared for almost anything and it takes a lot to surprise us but as we understand it A. G. E. stockholders have received no dividends in a number of years. Officials admit that $700,000 would almost pay one year's dividends.

Now, if officials of the company have been unable to pay dividends to their stock holders, where did they die up the money for a campaign involving $700,000? Of course, they readily admit that the consumer will pay the amount in the end—and this is no surprise—but where did the fund come from? Another matter deserves the attention of the stockholders of this company. The officials are being paid salaries, we presume, unless they are working for nothing in order to look out for the investments of the widows and orphans, and here they come with a stunt that will do their own cause more harm than anything else that could have happened. What are they paid for? Where are the 'brains' which money is supposed to get in high places?

A few years ago certain utilities were caught paying fees to professors, subsidizing speakers and writers and suspicion spread that they were trying to poison the public mind. Now, at a time when a fight was being made to prevent legislation, which they say is unjust, we find the record jammed with faked telegrams, spurious signatures, burned records and unexplained expenditures. Regardless of ethics, it seems there is an absence of brains somewhere in utility circles.

A Moth and Men.

As we sit at our table writing for the columns of this newspaper, a large moth, attracted by the light, flutters against the screen.

Poor moth! It doesn't know that the outside is best, and, instead of leaving the alluring beam alone it persists in seeking entrance. It failed to observe the web of the spider in a corner, crafty antagonist, who attends to business and flutters against it.

Will the moth escape? When we left it was free, but there is no certainty of the future.

How like moths we are! Yearning and seeking glittering goals that are apparently to be desired and heedless of the pitfalls along the way, we go through life without thinking of the difference between real values and glittering attractions.

Thinking differentiates the men of today from other things, and, when we think it all it is to realize that most of the time we think very little.

Is World Peace Possible?

If the people of Milam county are interested in the cause of world peace they must be prepared to do some thinking. Perhaps they will have to abandon some of their previous attitudes towards other nations.

Certainly thinking people realize today that the course of international affairs is not promising peace. Various ideas have been advanced but none of them seem to get anywhere. They collide with nationalism, prejudices and intolerances which seemingly are unsurmountable.

Without intending any general agreement with the conclusions reached but rather to give our readers something to start thinking about we list below the six points adopted by the National Peace Conference, representing some twenty-six national organizations. According to the opinion of those participating these measures are essential to peace:

(1) The cooperation of the United States with other nations to bring about the stabilization of currencies, the reduction of trade barriers and a settlement of the war debt problem;

(2) A national defense policy based on defense of American soil, with an army and navy limited and organized in accordance with that objective, and a munitions industry controlled through national and international action;

(3) Revision of the present neutrality;

(4) Extension of the good will and non-intervention policy to all regions—specifically the Far East;

(5) Elimination of racial discrimination from the immigration policy;

(6) Membership in the League of Nations on the terms of the pending resolution which provides that this country shall decide what action it will take when peace is threatened.

Read these suggestions over, make up your mind and discuss them with four or five of your friends. See if you can agree on all of them. If you can't do you think the nations of the world can?

Crime Doesn't Pay—Long!

If there are readers of the Herald who have the idea that maybe the newspapers are wrong and that crime does pay they might stop long enough to reflect upon the fate of Louis (Two Gun) Alterie.

The story is that he wore a bullet proof vest and dodged death for 15 years but the other day, when he came out of his apartment with his wife, the killers, lodged in an apartment across the Chicago street, poured twelve bullets into his face and head. They evidently believed he wore the bullet proof vest.

Even if the "law" doesn't get them the gangster sooner or later is wiped out by envious or frightened members of his own or some other mob.

How Does It Feel to Die?

Many people have wondered how it feels to die but naturally no authoritative statement comes from any expert on the subject to reveal the actual sensation.

About as near to a personal statement as one can come is the story told by people who suffer severe injuries, followed by unconsciousness, and survivors of accidents in the water, who have been literally snatched from death by resuscitation.

Recently a boy, ten years old, went under and passed out. After an hour of hard work he revived. What were his thoughts under water? He says that he thought "here goes another Gas" and "well, my family loses me!" His next sensation was feeling very sick but awfully happy, anyway, and that was when he was coming back to consciousness, with his rescuer working on him, expelling the swallowed water.

The Half-Cent and the Mill.

It begins to look like the old-fashioned half-cent piece is coming back and, more to the point, that it will be accompanied by a new device, known as the mill, or one-tenth of a cent.

Washington reports a demand for these coins from states which have adopted the sales tax, requiring the payment of small amounts on certain transactions. At least two states have attempted to meet the demands of the tax by use of tokens, which are illegal.

The half-penny, it is said, will be smaller than the copper. The mill will be a light colored coin easily distinguished from other loose change.

Sickness and the Family Purse.

When the average family of Cameron and other American centers is stricken with serious sickness, or inevitable accidents visits a home, there is a buckling and a bending of the family purse that weakens it for months and sometimes years.

The loss of the wage earner makes the crisis more difficult to meet as this means loss of income as well as extraordinary expense. Many families of moderate means can feel the effects of a serious illness to the wage earner for years. In fact, the lives of many children are hindered in development because of the family fight upon hard times consequent upon disease or misfortune.

The economic organization of society is amiss in this respect but we are not here discussing that. Instead, we prefer to point out that good health is to be obtained, as a general rule, by following carefully the rules laid down by eminent authorities, which have been familiar to most of us for many years.

Motor Cars and Stomach.

Many a motorist of Cameron takes better care of his motor than he does his stomach. The body's engine is worth more to a man than the cylinders that make his vehicle move.

Few people realize that the only purpose of food is to sustain life. The idea that keen enjoyment of much eating adds to living fails to take into consideration the shortened life that follows excessive eating.

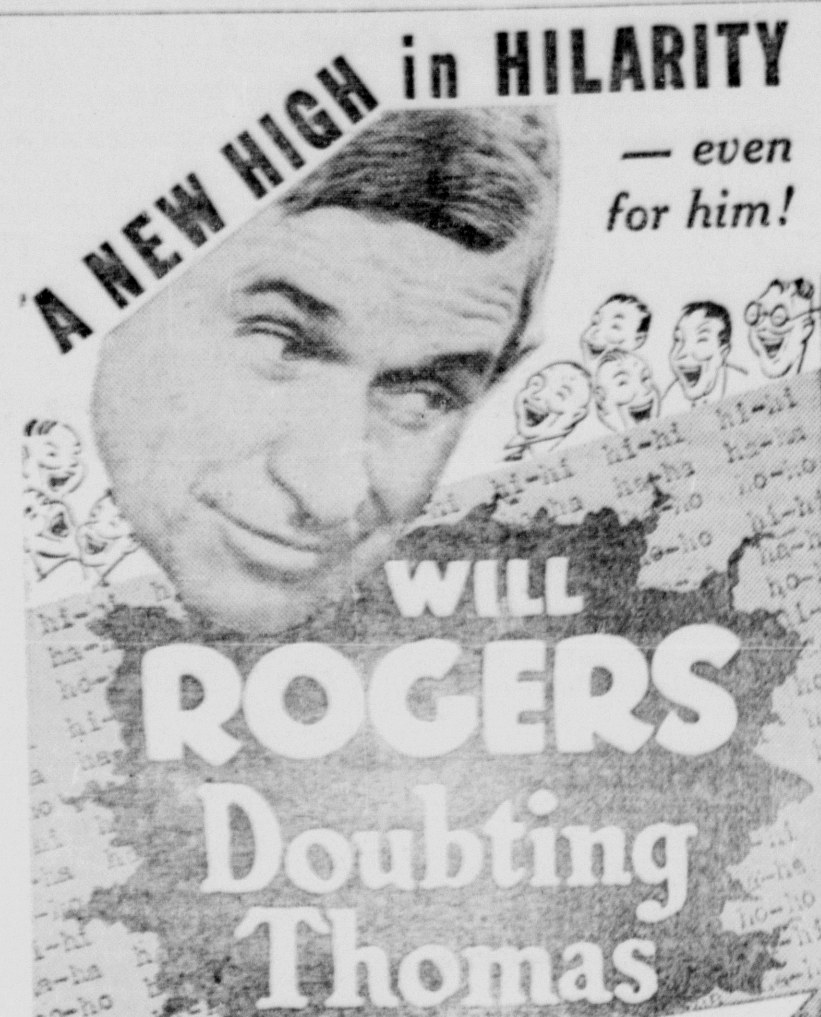

Of course, all of us have our favorite foods. We should use considerable discretion, however, as to how much and what hours we eat. Just because we like a delectable dish is not sufficient excuse to overwork the stomach.

When an automobile's engine gives out the car is junked. The same is true of man when his engine, the stomach, is unable to perform its work.

Mrs. Tiff Moore, who has been ill for several months, is reported to be gaining some in health. While not seriously ill, Mrs. Moore has been confined to her room for some time. Her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Velma Newton and brother, Trent, Jr., have returned from their vacation in Denver and Colorado Springs.

The Methodist church opened a revival here Sunday. N. H. Melbert, presiding elder of the Marlin district, is doing the preaching.

Central unit of the Texas Centennial Exposition, the Texas State Building, will cost $1,200,000. Designed by a committee of Texas architects, the building will be a massive structure of Texas limestone with a frontal width of 488 feet, a depth of 258 feet and 80 feet high at its center, where the niche of Heroes will be located. The two front wings will be occupied by regional rooms, devoted to the four geographical divisions of the state—East, West, North and South—while the extreme ends will be the Halls of 1836 and 1936.

Forming a third wing, extending to the rear from the Niche of Heroes, will be the Great Hall of Texas. This hall will be a large room with six semi-circular bays in which will be displayed flags of the six governments that have ruled Texas. At one end, silhouetted against stained glass windows, will be a heroic statue symbolic of Texas. On the floor will be outlined a map of Texas with bronze markers showing historic places and old pioneer trails. Murals will decorate the bays and walls of the regional rooms. Below the great hall will be an auditorium.

The walls of the Niche of Heroes, behind its columns, will bear in relief heroic figures of the major heroes of Texas, while under the windows in the side colonnades will be placed smaller figures of other historic Texas characters.

The interior of the hall of 1836 will be a replica of a Texas Mission, while that of the Hall of 1936 will be modern.

Louisa's Letter

SHOULD "PERPLEXED" GIVE HIM UP FOR GOOD?

Dear Louisa:

I have been going with a young man in our town for five years. He is very devoted to me and I am crazy about him. He gives me nice presents and takes me places but we do not seem to be getting any nearer to marriage than we were several years ago. He says we would get married tomorrow if it wasn't for his mother who objects to the idea very much.

Now, my family is just as good socially as his, but he has money. Another thing is that when I was young, I did some indiscreet things which didn't help my reputation any. All of which is in the past, however, and John says that he just can't live without me, but as he is an only child, he hates to hurt his mother.

It will break my heart to let him go but I certainly am not doing myself any good by letting him monopolize my time if he doesn't intend to marry me.

PERPLEXED.

Answer:

One of the most foolish things a girl can do is to devote her time, thoughts and life to a man who admits he is not interested in marriage. It is one thing to be good friends with a man for years, but it is quite another to be crazy about him.

John's mother is probably the selfish type who wants him all to herself and cannot bear the idea of his caring for some girl more than he does for her. Of course Perplexed has given her a nice curb to use by behaving indiscreetly in her youth.

However, if the young man is really crazy about her and Perplexed really wants to marry him, the quickest way to reach that state is to sweetly but firmly sever relations. Tell him that people are beginning to talk about you and that under the circumstances you think the best thing for you both is not to see each other again.

If he has any backbone at all, it will stiffen up and rather than give you up he will "talk turkey," as one of my colored servants used to say. Are you sure that you want him, though? He seems rather a spineless creature or a selfish one, at least, to let his mother make him jilt one girl and keep him from marrying another. From your picture of him I imagine he will be a mamma's boy all of his life and will be holding to her apron strings ever after he marries you.

LOUISA.

There's always a joker. You need not not pay your debts in Huey Long's Utopia, but you have to pay homage to Huey.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

Vacation Trip Is Enjoyed By Local Party At Corpus

Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Denson and their daughter, Marjorie Ann, have returned from a week's vacation trip to Corpus Christi where they enjoyed the sea, fishing and bathing. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Watt Skinner of Rogers.

While there Dr. J. L. Denson and grand sons drove down to spend a few days. They returned to Cameron Friday afternoon of last week.

Mr. Denson believes that Corpus Christi will soon become a city of 50,000 or more people due to its many natural advantages. He said he was glad to note that some interest was being manifested in a swimming park for Cameron.

Farm Club Notes

Baseball teams from four Future Farmers Chapters of Milam County engaged in a tournament Friday night on the Thorndale lighted diamond with Cameron and Thorndale coming out winners. In the opening game, Thorndale met San Gabriel and defeated them by a decisive 8 to 2 score, each team getting six hits. In the aftermath, Cameron downed Rockdale by the lopsided score of 13 to 1. Eldridge Rhea, Cameron F. F. A. pitcher, struck out 12 men during the seven innings, seven of the first eight to face him going out by the knockout route. The Cameron Future Farmers got 7 hits while Rockdale could account for only 4 hits during the game. The four teams will meet again at Thorndale Friday night, August 9 at which time Cameron and Thorndale, the two winners will meet and San Gabriel and Rockdale will play the consolation game. Sharp, the fifth school in Milam county that has a Future Farmer chapter, was not represented at the tournament Friday night, since a number of the boys from that school were in Lubbock at the State F. F. A. convention. E. D. Parnell, Cameron Vocational teacher, has charge of the local team. George Leath and Parnell furnished cars Friday night.

BAND COUNCIL IS NAMED FOR CAMERON

When the Cameron School Board accepted band use as a study in the school and made provision for the teacher of this subject, the president of the school board, J. C. Martin, was authorized to appoint a committee to look after the interests of the band in order that it might make the proper progress.

Mr. Martin has made the following appointments: J. W. Haygood, chairman; Mrs. Frank Monroe and Francis Cox as members; E. A. Perrin, ex-officio.

The committee met Monday of the past week to take stock and make plans for the coming school year.

The matter of a selection of a name first came up for consideration and it was decided that this organization should be known as the Band Council.

Mr. Perrin explained to the Council that the Board in appointing them as a council to foster the development of the band, had in mind the belief that a body which was directly interested in the accomplishments of the band could do most for the band. He further stated that band matters which arise relative to purchase of music, uniforms, band instruments, and other incidentals of the band would be directed through this Council.

Mr. Cox presented an itemized statement showing that the band would need approximately nine hundred dollars to foster the program of growth which it has outlined for this year. He calls attention to the fact that certain instruments are essential to the band that would in all probability not be bought by an individual pupil. He sees the necessity of two Susa Phones, two French Horns, one Bassoon, one Oboe and about one hundred and twenty five dollars worth of music if the band is to function successfully.

Several suggestions were made for raising this money. The School Board has allowed the band council three hundred dollars annually to provide for the needs of the band. Ordinarily this will be sufficient, but this year because of the need for the above named instruments it will be necessary to raise six hundred dollars in addition.

The band council pledged itself to have this amount in hand by January 1, 1936.

Mr. Haygood states that he and the Council members are open to suggestions from interested parties and that the Council will wage an earnest effort to supply all the needs of the band.

Trench Silo Solves All Farm Feed Problems

With the unusual large feed crop this year in Milam County, farmers who have as many as ten or twelve head of stock can hardly afford to be without a trench silo. If the pasture fails, or if the weather is too wet or too cold, a trench silo full of silage will span the gap.

A trench silo may be filled with corn, red top cane, seeded ribbon cane, hegari, kafir, milo, maize, etc. Be sure these crops are ripe; however, the leaves on the upper half of the stalk should be green. If these crops are cut too green, the silage will contain a surplus of acid and as a result will scour the cattle if fed liberally. The riper the crop, the greater the feed value of the silage. Be sure to wet the walls of the silo as it is being filled, as well as the silage itself. More water will be required if the whole stalks are placed in the trench silo than will be necessary if the stalks are chaffed with a silage cutter.

There can be no safer or better place in which to store an extra year's supply of feed than in a trench silo. No form of carry-over storage could be cheaper and safer, because one is by no means sure that he has saved his feed when he cuts it and puts it in shocks or a rick. Too much rain may spoil it, winds may fill the shocks with sand, fire may destroy a rick, but once feed is in a silo, it is almost certainly saved and all the feeding value that it had when it came from the field is retained as green feed is preserved through it being cooked, browned and fermented by its own heat.

A trench silo saves all the feed. In feeding fodder, the cattle pick out the leaves and avoid the stalks. In feeding silage, they pick out the stalks and avoid the leaves until the last. Cut short every bit of the stalks to make good silage as there is no waste.

A trench silo can be dug with very little expense, and a suitable site for a trench silo can be found on almost every farm. If there is a hill on which one can be dug, the digging is much better. After a plow and feno have done their full part in digging the trench, the sides must be smoothed with pick and shovel, as smooth sides assure the least spoilage. A trench silo ten feet wide at the top, eight feet wide at the bottom, six feet deep and ninety feet long would be about the correct size for twenty head of stock.

If the trench is dug on the side of a hill, one can do the feeding by backing the truck or wagon into the trench, load up and drive out. There are several farmers in Milam County who have been using trench silos and who say they would not be without them, and are wondering why it took them so many years to discover their surprising value.

Usually the fall or second crop of feed is hard to cure on account of weather conditions which gives another good reason for having a trench silo. Silage has been put in a trench silo and kept for seven years, and when opened was the best of feed.

The County Agent will be glad to give information in regard to constructing trench silos.

Geo. Banzhaf, County Agent, Milam County, Texas.

We are still wondering why the bout between Joe Louis and King Levinsky was arranged. It seems to us that there is little reason in this case to so widely publicize a mere bout with a sparring partner. The Kingfish may have a little fight in him after these years, but even at that he can be little match for Louis, who put away Carnera with so little trouble, if any. Anyway the fight is scheduled for August 7 at Comisky Park in Chicago. Maybe Joe finds that the best way to become heavy champ is to lick all available heavies regardless of standing.

You can never tell what will happen in baseball. Along about July 4th we pointed out that in the majority of the years that there has been major league competition the winner of the pennant has been the club in the lead on Independence Day. We also showed big leads held at the time by the two New York Clubs, each team apparently being "in" with their playing up to that date. However, the Giants recently saw a six or seven game lead diminished into nothing, and how the race appears to belong to anybody, "anybody in this case at present being the Giants and the Cards, fighting it out tooth and nail. The other Gothamites, members of the Yankee aggregation, now realize that the Tigers are still very much in the race, and as a result, the chances for a "Nickel Series" in the fall are greatly dimmed.

The American League this year has undergone several big changes among the batting greats of the year. Several of the regulars of last season who led their respective teams to whatever position in the race they may have obtained are falling down on the job miserably. The list includes Simmons, Manush, Trosky, White, Werber, Averill, Kuhel and others. Simmons has always been regarded as one of the dangerous clouters of the circuit, but this year has a mark hovering around .270, some sixty or seventy points below his last season's mark. Manush, at this time last year was hitting .400, and he ended the season near the .350 mark, but this year he has failed miserably to hit at the right time and cannot break into the .300 column. His teammate, Joe Kuhel, one of the steadiest first basemen in the circuit until this season, has fallen in with Henie, and has at times shared the first basing job with pitcher-infielder, Red Kress. Trosky has been perhaps the greatest disappointment of them all. The first sacker was hailed as another Ruth, but has had trouble keeping above or near .250. Bozie Berger, a second sacker, has at times taken over his job. White, a Tiger regular last season with a .313 average, is but an occasional pinch hitter. Werber is seventy points under his .321 mark of 1934. The others are tasting similar setbacks in one form or another, which is disappointing the managers no little.

On the other hand, there is an astounding number of players said to have been through after last season, who are staging great comebacks. Ted Lyons had been retained by the Chisox for several reasons purely for sentimental reasons, but this year the 34 year old hurler, who has never played organized baseball except with the Sox, has become one of the dependable hurlers in the loop, and has been the most important factor in the surprising exhibitions of the club. Ossie Bluege, always a sparkling fielder but never a hitter, was ousted from his third base job on the Nats last year by young Travis, but this year in May he took over the shortstop job, immediately jumped into the league lead among fielding shortfielders, and since being installed as a regular has hit near .300. He recently garnered the only hit allowed by Carl Fischer, pitching a full game for the White Sox against the Nats.

Tony Lazzerra has staged a great comeback with the Yanks. He has regained his old time fielding skill, and is leading his team in driving across runs. The second most important factor in the drive of the Dyke's nine has been the marvelous work behind the bat of the veteran, Luke Sewell. Luke played every position on the Nats last year except shortstop and pitcher, and was finally knocked down on the Browns, where he was traded to Chicago. His hitting is better, and his handling of pitchers has been superb. Johnny Allen, with a $1 a year contract, has shown the batters of the loop that his dead arm was a joke and has won half a score of games from the Yanks. Pete Fox, lowly hitting member of the 1934 Tigers, is slapping the ball near the .320 mark after being used as a pinch hitter early in the season. Eric McNair, A's, and Bruce Campbell, Indians, have improved their averages over last year 35 to 60 points respectively.

A Capital City fan has taken a squint at the roster of the present Congress and has devised the following baseball team from names of Senators and Representatives: first base, Terry, (Arkansas); second base, Hale, (Maine); shortstop, Fray, (Pennsylvania); third base, Higgins, (Massachusetts); right field, Chapman, (Kentucky); center field, West, (Texas); left field, Johnson, (California); catchers, Bolton, (Ohio), Wilson, (Louisiana), and Richards, (South Carolina); pitchers, Allen, (Illinois), Blanton, (Texas), Weaver, (North Carolina), Lucas, (Illinois), Pearson, (Tennessee), and Jones, (Texas). Were these honorable gentlemen at all baseball minded they could play the winner of the annual Republican-Democrat game, adding quite a bit to the fray.

The fan who threw the firecracker into the Cleveland dugout on July 4 probably had no idea that he was having fun that was harmful, but now the news is out that Clint Brown, lanky right hander of the Indians mound staff, may lose forever the sight of one eye as a result of the prank. Brown's eye was injured when dirt flew up into his eye with other particles when the firecracker exploded. One eye is blind, and, according to latest reports available the other optic may also become useless, though the chances are that both may again become normal and Brown who won four and lost one before the accident, may again return to the injury-burdened Indians.

Pick Up at Short—Perhaps the greatest minor league outfield of all time was at San Francisco in 1928 when Smead Jolley, Roy Johnson and Earl Averill hit .404, .360 and .354 respectively. . . . George Granger pitched a complete game for Birmingham recently in which he allowed Little Rock 23 hits and 16 runs, every man on the latter club except the pitcher getting at least two hits, he pitcher getting none. . . . His next start a few days later was with Montreal against Albany—and he won, allowing only eight hits and three runs in AA ball. . . . Eddie Cole pitched the first no-hit, no-run game in the history of the Texas League in defeating Tulsa recently. . . . Baltimore, I. L., has hit nearly 100 more homers than its nearest league team rival! . . . After booting the first ball hit to him in the majors, rookie Carey of the Browns came back to hit two doubles against the Yanks. . . . Frank Frisch has benched himself in favor of Burges Whitehead. . . . But says he hasn't quit. . . . They do say that Glenn Wyatt's knowledge of A. L. hitters got him the job with the Giants.

The star of this year's women's N. A. A. U. swimming meet was 11 year old Mary Hoerger, of Miami, who won the springboard diving contest, the youngest ever to win a title in the meet. The meet, bringing together the best of the nation's feminine water churners, saw Miss Lenore Knight win first honors by taking the final event, the 880 free style in the world record breaking time of 11:34.

WHOSE WORD WILL YOU TAKE FOR BLOWOUT PROTECTION?

Low wheels, larger tires, and the high speeds of today make blowout protection in your tires vital to your safety as never before. Are you accepting exaggerated and unsupported advertising and sales claims—or are you accepting the judgment of men who risk their lives on their tires and know from experience the tire that gives them the greatest blowout protection?

Thirty-three race drivers and their mechanics lined up for the dangerous, gruelling grind of the 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. Firestone Tires were purchased and used on every one of the thirty-three cars. Not one of the drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Gum-Dipping is one of the outstanding reasons why Firestone Tires give such amazing performance. By this process every cotton cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

Protect your life and the lives of others by equipping your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Tires—the safest tires built.

It will be worth your time to read these three questions and their answers:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of other popular makes of tires.

QUESTION 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

ANSWER—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Both guests being students of the University of Texas, the Texas colors of orange and white were used in all appointments. The chosen flowers were marigold and orange zenias, attractively placed in vases and baskets and rested at pleasing points. Table covers for games were in orange shade with University emblems in white in each corner; bowls of orange and white candy were placed on the tables. Trays for serving were laid with orange and white covers with napery to match. A salad course with drink also carried out the University colors. Plate favors were corsages of marigolds tied with white ribbons.

Guests prizes were University of Texas pennants; high prize, double deck of cards, was won by Miss Sara Waller of Houston; low, a single deck of cards, went to Miss Marjorie Landrum of Marlin, who had also been presented with one deck of cards as guest prize. Miss Landrum presented them to the honor guest, Misses Carolyn Cheever, Henriem Hefley, Dell Horstmann and Theresa Manning drew table cuts which were small glass globes containing marigolds on reflectors.
